ROBBED IN HER FLAT.

Old Woman's Van Case of Two Young Men Who Had Her $335.

Mrs. Emma Pryke, who is about 60 years old and in uncertain health, lives with her husband in a flat at 134 West Fifteenth street. Her husband is an employee of Twenty-third street dry goods store and Mrs. Pryke rents furnished rooms. Last Tuesday morning two young men came to her flat and said that they wanted a double room. Mrs. Pryke showed them a room, with which they expressed themselves satisfied, and one of them drew out a ten dollar bill and said that he would like to make her an advance payment of $6.

The men took the bill and started for the kitchen to get the change. One of the men had stepped into the kitchen to get a drink of water, so Mrs. Pryke stopped in the shadow of the door and leaned over to get the change out of her stocking. At that moment the man behind her caught her by the throat and threw her to the floor.

The men dragged her into the hallway between them, tearing off her wrapper. She contained $335, from her stocking. They also took their own bill.

Mrs. Pryke lay stunned for a moment, while the men ran downstairs, and then she jumped up and pursued them. The two robbers were just turning into Sixth avenue as she reached the street. Clad only in her underclothing, the old lady ran after them. She presented such a strange appearance, and was exclaiming so incessantly that no one interfered with the men. They turned into Fourteenth street, and she lost sight of them, but she told her experience to the policeman on the corner.

In less than an hour Mrs. Pryke was driving to Police Headquarters in a carriage furnished by Capt. Cottrell of the West Thirtieth street police station. Inspector McCluskey requested her to look at the picture of the man who had stolen her money. The picture is that of Harry Hart, 27 years old, of 142 West Twenty-eighth street.

Armed with this information and a description of the men, Detectives Dockstadter and McIlroy of the West Thirtieth street police station arrested Hart at his home yesterday. In the Jefferson Market police court Magistrate Crane held him in $500 for examination to-day. Mrs. Pryke was not in court, as she was ill.

CAUGHT 32 TIPSTERS.

Capt. Dooley Got His Tip About Them From a Woman.

Capt. Dooley, of the Coney Island station, took his plain clothes men and a patrol wagon to the Gravesend race track yesterday afternoon and put out a dragnet for the tipsters. In half an hour his men had nabbed thirty-two. Half of them were bundled into the wagon and taken over to the jail at Coney Island. The rest were kept in a shanty until the wagon went back for them.

The raid was instigated by an anonymous letter received by Capt. Dooley yesterday morning. It was written by a woman who signed herself "H. H." and who told him to go to the race and look a few fellows, and did she wrote, but she couldn't afford to lose the tipsters. Further, she objected to him being on the track, and told him to get his men in an effort to get their tips to her. They were an abominable and a nuisance, she said.

The thirty-two were picked up last night at Coney Island, not one having secured bail. Toward dark they got so noisy that the captain thought the coffee and sandwiches. Then they kept quiet.

WOMEN IN CYCLING CREST.

Metropole Club Decides It No Harm to Let Them Run Down Hill.

"Is sliding down hill on a bicycle in competition with men any more indecorous or unwomanly than driving balls in mixed foursomes, playing a match at tennis, or riding to hounds over fences?" "H. H." This question came up for settlement before the governors of the Metropole Cycling Club yesterday, and the knotty problem was solved by more man yielding and giving place to womanhood once more.

The question was raised when four entries from women were received at the eleventh hour for the cycling crest in Saturday afternoon. The "variety crew" in a rather unsettled state. John Kennedy is discouraged and does not attempt to conceal his feelings. "We have got to start all over again," said Kennedy to-night. "I have never seen a crew undergoing so many changes as this one so close to the date set for the race."

The crew was made up this evening was: Stroke, Whitney; No. 7, Cross; No. 6, Whittier; No. 5, Ferguson; No. 4, Secord; No. 3, Morse; No. 2, Daly; bow, Weeks; coxswain, LeBlanc. Only light practice was taken near the boat house, and the shells were stored away by 7 o'clock.

Harvard's "variety crew" was sent down the four mile course again this morning, having the tide in their favor and slightly handicapped by a light westerly breeze. The freshmen lined up at the start. The second eight, too, paced the big crew part way down stream, the second crew rowing in the quiescent and the freshmen three. The variety crew led the freshmen about two lengths at the third mile, and the tide was fully a length astern when it ceased rowing.

R. W. GOELET SAILS AWAY.

And Won't Be at His Cousin's Wedding on Tuesday—He Was to Be Best Man.

Robert W. Goelet will sail for Europe to-day on the Deutschland, to be gone all summer. He will miss the nuptials of his cousin, Robert Goelet, and Miss Elsie Whalen, in Philadelphia next Tuesday. It was originally announced that he was to be the best man.

At the Goelet home, 501 Fifth avenue, it was said last night that Mr. Goelet made his plans for the summer when the wedding date was set for yesterday. When it became necessary to postpone the ceremony on account of Robert Goelet's illness, his cousin found it impossible to change his own arrangements.

Owing to an impending domestic event it is not expected that the Duchess of Burghe will come over to the wedding, and the Duke of Roxburgh cannot leave England, as he is to escort his younger sister, Lady Isabel Innes-Kun, to the altar in St. George's, Hanover square, on her marriage with Guy Wilson of Tranby Croft, on June 23.

RECREATION PIER PINCHER.

O'Connor's Style of Promiscuous Lovemaking Cost Him $5.

Michael O'Connor, a young man who lives at 440 First avenue, was arraigned before Magistrate Moss in the Yorkville police court yesterday on a charge of trying to make love to various young women on the recreation pier at the foot of East Twenty-fourth street.

"Innocent lovelinking is no crime," remarked the Magistrate to Policeman Howard, who made the complaint, so incidentally that the Duchess of Burghe was not wanted, responded the policeman. "He sat down alongside a girl in a quiet corner and tried to hug her, but her ladyship wouldn't let him. He then went to the other side of her and there came being a fight. Then this young fellow started off, pinching all the women he could get close to."

"Rowdiness on the recreation piers cannot be tolerated," said the Magistrate. "I'll fine you $5 this time, young man, as a lesson to all of your kind."

MLANE'S DEATH AN ACCIDENT?

Edgar Allan Poe Thinks Baltimore's Mayor Didn't Kill Himself.

BALTIMORE, June 8.—Edgar Allan Poe, the clown of the late Mayor McLane, is out with a statement to-day, in which he declares that McLane did not kill himself intentionally, but was the victim of an accident. He tells of a conversation he had with the Mayor the day before, when municipal matters were discussed.

The Mayor then unfolded his plans. He was not only not worried but in good spirits. There were no domestic troubles, Mr. Poe explains why he believes death was due to accident. The position of the body when found indicated to him that the Mayor was examining the revolver, and that he had been shot in the chest. He was not shot from one place to another, that he dropped the holster, and was in the act of picking it up when his arm struck an open drawer and the explosion followed.
